23RD ANNUAL CRITICS' CHOICE AWARDS

7 p.m. on KDAF

It's still relatively early in the season for movie honors to be handed out, but every step can help on the path to the Oscars, since each win can reinforce a nominee's place in the minds of voters. This event combines the picks of the Broadcast Film Critics Association and Broadcast Television Journalists Association for the best of the past year's work in film and TV. "Wonder Woman" star Gal Gadot will be given a special award by that movie's director, Patty Jenkins.

TOP CHEF

9 p.m., 11:30 p.m. on BRAVO

Using Tasty online videos for inspiration, Padma Lakshmi and Richard Blais throw down a Quickfire Challenge tasking the chefs with transforming the most labor-intensive dishes on their menus into accessible, ready-in-30-minutes dishes for home cooks. Then, celebrated German chef Keegan Gerhard schools the chefs in his country's cuisine and challenges them to create a Top Chef beer garden that features their own spin on German dishes in the new episode "Now That's a Lot of Schnitzel."

tonight's PICKS
7 p.m. on FREE

The series resumes its fifth season with "Sanctuary," which is just what Callie and Ximena (Maia Mitchell, Lisbeth Chavez) are seeking as they remain in the church, hoping to evade ICE agents. Meanwhile, the large Adams Foster clan rallies to offer support for the Sinfuego family as they struggle desperately with their immigration status. Teri Polo, Sherri Saum, Hayden Byerly, David Lambert and Ciera Ramirez also star.

THIS IS US
8 p.m. on KXAS

The award-winning drama series resumes its second season with "The Fifth Wheel" — and definite fallout related to the point where the episodes left off, as Kevin's (Justin Hartley) arrest for driving under the influence generates strain with other family members ... particularly Randall (Sterling K. Brown), given who else was in the car at the time. The marital ups and downs of Rebecca and Jack (Mandy Moore, Milo Ventimiglia) also continue as they take The Big Three on a summer vacation. Chrissy Metz, Chris Sullivan and Susan Kelechi Watson also star.

BLACKISH
8 p.m. on WFAA

Visits from siblings form the thrust of the new episode "Inheritance," with Rashida Jones and Raven-Symone both reprising their earlier guest roles. Rhonda's (Raven-Symone) reappearance prompts Ruby's (Jennifer Lewis) discussion with her and Dre (Anthony Anderson) about what they will inherit. Bow's (Tracee Ellis Ross) sister Santamonica (Jones) enlists a new assistant: Junior (Marcus Scribner). Laurence Fishburne also stars.

'The Grill Dads' hit the road for adventures in barbecue

Foodies know Austin, the capital city of Texas, as one of the country's epicenters of fine barbecue, offering visitors and locals five-star dining on everything from ribs and chicken to pulled pork and brisket.

Which made "The Grill Dads" Mark Anderson and Ryan Fey all the more surprised by one of the eateries they visited there to film a recent episode.

"Every time I go there, I figure out which barbecue place I want to wait in line for and live Texas through the brisket," Anderson explains. "So we went to a place called Wu Chow, which is some of the best dim sum, and we made chicken mao there. And that surprised the heck out of me because you don't think about going to Texas for great Chinese food, and it was epic."

"It doesn't equate," adds Fey, "that when you go to Austin, Texas, to find great Chinese food and these guys are crushing it there. Crushing it."

In each episode of the Friday series, Anderson and Fey – 40-ish college pals and fathers with backgrounds in advertising – travel the country to places such as Austin, Seattle, Portland (Ore.), Denver, San Francisco, Minneapolis, Kansas City and Fey's hometown of Boise, Idaho, to sample the outrageous, over-the-top and delicious and share their love of grilling.

In this Friday's Jan. 12 episode, the pals make a stop in Jackson Hole, Wyo., where they sample offerings such as a 40-ounce steak with rattlesnake jalapeno poppers and a house-rubbed 18-ounce beef rib that's braised to the point of falling off the bone.

"We're both huge fans of Jackson Hole, Wyo.," Fey says. "It's one of our favorite places to go. There's a chef at the Snake River Grill that's crushing it with the pork shank and he does it in a way that we've never seen before. And it was one of those bites of food that you just are unable to get pretty much anywhere else. It's something that you almost would never think of doing."

What book are you currently reading?

Anderson: "Tony Gemignani's 'Pizza Bible.'"

What is your next project?

Anderson: "One of the things that we've wanted to do is to help people who watch our show learn how to cook some of these things at home. So Fey and I are working on a project where for each episode we're going to release a 60-second video on social media with a recipe that shows people, 'Hey, here's this thing you saw at this restaurant and here's how you make it at home.' Because sometimes when people see these big commercial kitchens or giant commercial smokers, they might be like, 'Oh I can't make that because I don't have those things.' So for the people that don't just want to eat it but want to make it at home, we're trying to use social media content to help connect them with how to do that better."

What did you have for dinner last night?

Anderson: "Smoked meatballs. They are so good. It was beef and pork and stuffed with fontina cheese. They're incredible."
