Karen Ann Quinlan Hospice

Thank you for voting

- Best Hospice
- Best Non-Profit/Charity Organization
- Best Skilled Nursing & Rehabilitation Facility
- Best Home Health Care Service
- Best Benefits Program

us:

Ask for Karen Ann Quinlan Hospice by name...there is a difference.

When it's time for hospice care, you decide which hospice you want to care for you or your loved one and let your physician know which one you prefer. Below are some questions to help you and your family identify factors that may be important to you and your family when selecting a hospice. We answer YES! to all these questions and more!

Is the Hospice Medicare Certified?

Most hospices are certified by Medicare and are therefore required to follow Medicare rules and regulations. This is important if you wish to receive hospice care as part of your Medicare/Medicaid coverage.

Is the hospice accredited by a national organization?

Several organizations accredit hospices, surveying them to ensure they meet quality standards. Hospices are not required to be accredited but accreditation can be a reflection of its commitment to quality.

Does the hospice own or operate a care facility to provide home-like care in a hospice residence, hospital or nursing home?

This may be important to you if the care needed is complex and/or family caregivers cannot care for the person at home.

Are there clinical staff (physicians, nurses, social workers) certified or credentialed in hospice and palliative care?

There are several credentials that hospice professionals can achieve based on their knowledge of hospice/palliative care and their educational experience.

What services do volunteers offer, and if requested, how quickly will a volunteer be available?

Volunteers can provide a variety of services including friendly visits, light household chores, running errands, personal care, etc. If you want a hospice volunteer, be sure to ask how quickly one can be assigned and how they match volunteers to meet your needs.

Will staff come to the home if there is a crisis at any time of the day or night and on weekends? Who is available to make the home visit?

Hospice staff are available by phone to help you 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Frequently a nurse is the best person to make a visit if it is a medical crisis, however, sometimes the crisis is best handled by a social worker, chaplain or another member of the team. Ask if all members of the team are available in a crisis situation during nights and weekends.
